

CONTRIBUTORS

VELMARIE ALBERTINI is an educator, author, researcher and academic leader at Florida Polytechnic University where she focuses on regional accreditation standards and curriculum development.

PETER ALTHOUSE is Professor of Religion and Theology at Southeastern University, Lakeland, Florida.

DALE M. COULTER is an associate professor in the School of Divinity at Regent University, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

JAMES D. CRAIG is the Coordinator of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada Archives in Mississauga, Ontario.

VAN JOHNSON is Dean of Master's Pentecostal Seminary (established in Toronto in 1996), which is partnered with Tyndale Seminary. He also serves as an instructor in New Testament at Tyndale.

JENNIFER A. MISKOV, completed her PhD at the University of Birmingham and is Founding Director of Destiny House, Redding California.

JOSEPH QUAYESI-AMAKYE is Senior Lecturer and Head of Department with the School of Theology and Missions and the Department of Systematic and Practical Theology, Central University College, Ghana.

E. JANET WARREN completed her PhD in charismatic theology at the University of Birmingham and currently works as an independent scholar and a family physician in Stoney Creek, Ontario.

MICHAEL WILKINSON is professor of sociology and director of the Religion in Canada Institute at Trinity Western University, British Columbia.